

The proposed postage increase for January, 2023 is totally unacceptable. The American public cannot be expected to subsidize a failing USPS. The poor leadership and fiscal responsibility of the USPS is responsible for a failing organization. The rate of increase for postage over the past 40 years has surpassed every cost-of-living measurement by 150% making it the most increased commodity for Americans during those 40 years. Someone needs to ensure the USPS is held accountable. The USPS will continue to fail as more electronic communications are utilized and created. The USPS welcomes junk mail and unwanted catalogs. The American public does not. This latest request comes on the heels of a recent postage price increase.
